ANNUAL REPORT 2025-26

Sports culture is a strong necessity in India.

This Women's Day: Sports Coaching Foundation (SCF) is Building Confidence and Opportunity for Rural Girls Through Sports

In the heart of India's push toward the 2036 Olympics, a quiet revolution is taking place—not in high-tech stadiums, but in the dusty government school grounds of our villages and towns. For over three decades, the Sports Coaching Foundation (SCF), an NGO dedicated to health and peace through sports, has championed the belief that "Education without sports is incomplete".

Today, we highlight their latest breakthrough: the Build India Through

The Grassroots Gap

While India's sporting aspirations are at an all-time high, the reality in government schools—where 65% of our children study—is stark. Over 40% of these schools lack functional playgrounds, and the student-to-PT teacher ratio is staggering at 1:500. This isn't just about sports; it's about

A First Venture, an Extraordinary Sporting Contribution by Sports Coaching Foundation

The BITS Solution: A Replicable Success

BITS is built as a repeatable system, not a one-day sports event. It focuses on what schools can run every week, even with limited staff and tight budgets. This is a low-cost, high-impact answer to this systemic challenge. By focusing on four key pillars, SCF is turning underserved schools into hubs of talent:

1. Upgrading existing grounds and providing cost-effective multi-sport kits.
2. Training "Sports Ambassadors"—both teachers and students—to ensure the culture of play remains sustainable.
3. Bringing together principals, volunteers, and local youth.

How the BITS model works, and why it is built to last in rural India

The indicative cost is about ₹5,00,000 per school, or roughly ₹1,250 per child (often based on a typical school size). In plain terms, that usually covers basic ground upgrades, simple markings, multi-sport equipment, and

BITS Pillars 1: Make play possible, then train people to run it

BITS starts with the ground, because space sets the tone. Instead of expensive construction, it often means upgrading what's already there: levelling, clearing hazards, and adding simple multi-sport markings. A school doesn't need separate courts for each game. It needs a safe surface and clear zones.

Next comes equipment that fits rural reality. Multi-sport kits typically include basics for cricket (bats, stumps), basketball, and football, chosen because they work for mixed ages and group play. The goal is cost-effective variety, not shiny gear that breaks fast.

Then, capacity building locks it in. BITS trains teachers and students as Sports Ambassadors, so sport doesn't depend on one overworked PT teacher. Sessions use simple routines, inclusive games, and age-

Local ownership changes everything. When students help run games, the

BITS Pillar 2: Bring the community in, and create real talent pathways

A playground survives when the community values it. BITS builds that support by involving principals, teachers, local youth, and parents. Volunteers help supervise events, protect equipment, and keep the space respected. When families see structure and safety, girls stay in the game longer.

SCF has shown this focus through specialised women's empowerment work too, including multi-sport workshops and competitions that it conducted in April 2023 with 600 girls from Sindhu Women's College. It has also supported the Girls Juvenile Home in Hyderabad with group sports and equipment, and provided free basketball coaching for girls at the Govt. Polytechnic College in Masab Tank. In January 2026, BITS reached vulnerable groups at Govt. School West Marredpally, reinforcing that inclusion is a design choice.

Finally, BITS connects talent to opportunity. Promising athletes can be

Why does this matter for inclusion, and how can partners help scale it responsibly?

For Sports NGOs and CSR teams, BITS offers something practical: a model that protects equity while improving outcomes you can track.

Sport supports prevention. Regular movement helps physical health, stress, sleep, and peer relationships. It also creates positive daily structure, which matters in communities facing economic pressure. In other words, sport is often the cheapest form of early support a school can offer, if it's safe and consistent.

SCF's track record adds confidence. The foundation's work has earned public recognition, including a Presidential Award for social change in 2015 and an International Social Impact Award in Bangkok. It has also been ranked among the Top 3 Sports NGOs in the world (as reported by the

"For the past 35 years, SCF, the Sports Coaching Foundation, has worked to promote gender equality and empower girls through sports. We believe that sports can break barriers, build confidence, and create equal opportunities for young women from all backgrounds. At SCF, we remain committed to creating a safe and supportive platform where every girl can dream, play, and succeed. On International Women's Day, we salute every girl and woman who continues to inspire the world with her determination and strength." — K. Sai Baba, Secretary, Sports Coaching

A Call for Collaborative Action

India's Olympic dreams need more than elite centres in big cities. They need a wider base where rural children can play often, safely, and with support. That's what BITS strengthens, using schools as the starting point for health, confidence, and opportunity. By supporting NGOs like the Sports Coaching Foundation, we aren't just funding a project; we are investing in the health, resilience, and competitive spirit of the next generation.

With around ₹5,00,000 per school (roughly ₹1,250 per child), partners can help turn an empty yard into a working play space and a real pathway. Fund a school, co-deliver Sports Ambassador training, sponsor multi-sport kits, support district links, or help evaluate impact. If 2036 is the

Collister distributed prizes to the young trainees at the SCF after having a close look at the coaching manual brought out by the SCF. He appreciated the Manual for teaching beyond athletics to impart essential life skills and values. For his part, Sai Baba thanked Collister for taking time off from his busy schedule to visit the foundation.

The SCF official informed that the unique programme of SCF ‘Build India Through Sports’ has positively influenced about 380 government schools and orphanage homes with the SCF setting up basic sports infrastructure, including laying out playfields for volleyball, football, besides providing sports equipment.

“We look forward to continued support to the SCF efforts,” he said.

SPORTS IS THE CHEAPEST MEDICINE

DO YOU HAVE 10 MINUTES FOR YOUR COUNTRY ? IF YES, THEN READ.

YOU say that our government is inefficient. YOU say that our laws are too old. YOU say that the municipality does not pick up the garbage. YOU say that the phones don't work, the railways are a joke, the airline is the worst, and mails never reach their destination. YOU say that our country has been fed to the dogs and is the absolute pits. YOU say and say, what do YOU do about it ?

We sit back wanting to be pampered and expect the government to do everything for us while our contribution is totally negative. We expect the government to clean up but we are not going to stop chucking garbage all over the place, nor are we going to stop to pick up a stray piece of paper and throw it in the bin. We expect the railways to provide clean bathrooms but we are not going to learn the proper use of bathrooms. We want Indian Airlines and Air-India to provide the best of food and toiletries but we are not going to stop pilfering at the least opportunity. Our excuse it's the whole system which has to change.

So who's going to change the system ? what does a system consist of ? Very conveniently for us it consists of our neighbours, other households, other cities, other communities and the government. But definitely not me and YOU, when it comes to us actually making a positive contribution to the system, we lock ourselves along with our families into a safe cocoon and look into the distance at countries far away and wait for a Mr. Clean to come along and work miracles for us with a majestic sweep of his hand.

Dear Indians, this disgust is highly thought provoking and calls for a great deal of introspection. It also pricks one's conscience, too.

I am reminding you of what John F. Kennedy exhorted to his countrymen "Ask not what your country can do for you. Ask what you can do for your country"

MAHATMA GANDHI A GREAT VOLUNTEER

During his stint as a Barrister in South Africa, Mahatma Gandhi discovered the power of Football in uniting the masses. He set up clubs in Durban, Pretoria and Johannesburg and helped to bring people together in a counter shrouded in deep racial oppression.

Volunteering strengthens your community.

- Volunteering is more than spending one's time, actively participating in selfless acts or activities that benefit other people. It has a greater impact on society as a whole.
- Volunteering provides an opportunity for students to learn and grow into valuable members of the society.
- Community service and volunteerism is an investment in our Indian Society.

Ownership at the Workplace

- Ownership is taking the initiative to bring about positive results. It means not waiting for others to act, and caring about the meaningful outcome.

WHY IT IS IMPORTANT TO PARTICIPATE IN SPORTS?

- Education is incomplete without sports.
- Sport and physical education is fundamental to the early development of children.
- Did you know that India is the Diabetic Capital of the World? Note that, Involvement in Sports is the cheapest medicine.
- Sport inculcates values like Truth, Discipline, Work Culture, Determination and Sportsman Spirit, it will play a big role in building Character.
- Every Sport has a set of rules and every participant needs to be aware and work around those rules and accordingly communicate with one another. This increases the awareness level and confidence of the participant.
- Sport develops Logical, Critical Thinking and Analytical skills in you in the most practical manner.
- Sport is one field which builds 'Never Say Die Attitude'. Such an attitude helps them to overcome obstacles in Life.
- Participation in Sports inculcates Leadership and Self-Confidence, which in turn helps you to think independently, question without fear - but with politeness.
- Involvement in Sports should be a way of life. Note that, a Healthy Nation is without doubt a wealthy nation.
- If every school in India is able to annually organize an exclusive sports day event, we can then positively hope to transform the sporting image of India from a sleeping giant to "Vibrant Sporting Hub of the World".
- Let us hope India can host the biggest and colorful sporting event - The Olympics.

I was one of the 200 boys assembled for the MCH summer camp at Lal Bahadur Stadium: Asaduddin Owaisi

HYDERABAD: Asaduddin Owaisi, Hyderabad MP, went down memory lane! For someone who was a gangling fast bowler, Nizam College and Osmania University in the Vizzy Trophy, it was quite fitting that he formally launched the 'Radar Speed Gun' acquired by the Sports Coaching Foundation (Masab Tank).

Making one of his rare appearances at sports functions, Mr. Owaisi delighted the selection, gathering with a crisp speech about sports, and efforts needed to tap talent and recalled his playing days.

"I still remember when I was one of the 200 boys who assembled for the MCH (then) summer camp at Lal Bahadur Stadium for trials. Baig Sir, who turned out to be my first coach, spotted me and forced me to join the camp at Gymkhana for which I used to walk all the way from Idyerguda even as my father was against me playing cricket," he recalled.

"It is a different issue that I did not go on to play for the country which is any budding cricketer's ultimate dream," he remarked. Noticing B. Mohan, former HCA selector, he remarked, "I also remember Mohan Sir how you picked me in the Hyderabad under-25 squad but did not let me play in the 11," the MP said with a big smile. On a more serious note, Mr. Owaisi reminded the need to create sports infrastructure in Old City.

"We have plenty of talent and all that is needed is proper guidance and support at the right age," he pointed out. He appreciated the efforts of SCF general secretary K. Sai

Baba in promoting sports amongst the underprivileged

C. V. S. K. Sarma, Special Officer and Chief Commissioner, GHMC, wondered whether it was not possible to produce 10 Olympians within GHMC limits given the money spent on sports programmes.

"I am sure there are talented youngsters in many disciplines. We have to unearth these jewels to keep the country's flag flying in Olympics. This is why we appreciate SCF efforts," he said.

L. V. Subrahmanyam, Principal Secretary, Health, wanted GHMC to conduct league tournaments every month in different disciplines by involving State Sports Associations. "There is need to make optimum use of technology by all the coaches," he said.

He appealed to the GHMC to publicise extensively all the major sporting events at its 1,100 playgrounds to inculcate the sporting culture amongst citizens.
